The class of 1999 is pleased to dedicate The Vineyarder to our principal Dr. Gregory T. Scotten, who has helped to lead our school to national recognition with two Blue Ribbons Awards. We have recognized his devotion and knowledge during our four years of attending this high school. He has taken his time to accompany the students when traveling internationally and has undoubtedly supported the football teams every victory. He has been known to stand out in the wind, sleet, and rain just to grasp the chains in their games.

Dr. Scotten is a many-faceted educator, dedicated grampa, avid coin collector, and a model train aficionado who still has time to dabble in the stock market.

Dr. Scotten has been with this high school for many years. He will be greatly missed by faculty and students alike.

I say to the young:
Do not stop thinking of life as an adventure.
You have no security unless you can live bravely, excitingly, imaginatively.

The Minnesingers

The Minnesingers were German troubadours, or traveling poetic musicians of an upper class from the 11th to the end of the 13th century. The translation of Minnesingers in the German language is Singers of Love. Conductor Tom Mills formed the Minnesingers in 1967. Two years later Bob Nute assumed the position. He would form the group into an elite choir that would stun Vineyard audiences for the next 26 years. The Minnesingers began travelling to other countries. The group remainded a standing choir until 1982; it was then that the group had its first dance number. The audiences enjoyed it so much, the dance routines became a tradition. In 1995 Robin Planer took over for a year adding a touch of Jazz. In 1996 Daniel K. Murphy (our current director) would lead the Minnesingers into the next millenium with Broadway showtunes, Stomp, and movie musicals.

The Minnesingers is a very special tradition that has touched many of us deeply, and is something that will never die.

Class History

High school. Highschool. Two words that have become one. One building, ten letters, four years of our lives. High school is life between the ages of 14 and 18. There are so many memories, and we've already attempted to sum them up in 100 words or less, to fill each of our designated spaces in this book with the most important highlights. Will we remember what "F.A.C. with A.B. and L.T. at S.B." means next year, not to mention the eve of our 25th reunion, as we pull all-nighters in an attempt to cram all of the nicknames we had for our high school sweethearts into our heads?

We all have personal memories, events that have shaped our lives. We've had some great teachers (hopefully) and some not-so-great ones. We've had personal losses. We've had personal losses and losses that we've faced as a class. Kyra Morelli completed her task for this life before she could step with us into the halls of MVRHS, but she will still be with us on June 20th, 1999.

Who can say what was the most important time for our class? I can note some key things that we've shared, but we'll remember the important stuff. There have been sports wins and drama productions. We've traveled to England, Greece, Denmark, Spain, France, Germany, Mexico, Italy and Ireland. We've won academic and articistic awards, been accepted and rejected to schools, and will step out of MVRHS with Dr. and Mrs. Scotten and Mr. Nute at our side. Sure, our prom was fun, and the winter ball, too. Already that research paper that was sure to bring armageddon if not finished has carved out a niche for itself next to the prom shoes that didn't match, and the crush that failed to live up to expectations. These seemingly insignificant things are high school. Highschool.

By the time this is published, we will all know what colleges we're going to, and whether or not Scho really meant it when he said that those times we skipped gym would prevent us from graduating. We know which friends we'll really keep in touch with, and which ones will remain faces on the pages of this yearbook, but we cannot know where we will be in ten years. Right now, our choices are as infinite as the grains of sand that make up Martha's Vineyard. Some of us will become doctors, human rights activists, and chefs. Some of us will end up on the other side of the world and some of us will keep our Vineyard addresses for the rest of our lives. This little island, about which every single member of the class of 1999 has complained, is our binding force. We all have a piece of the Vineyard in us, whether you're a native or you moved here senior year. It has shaped us as individuals and as a class, and it will influence our decisions and our thoughts for the rest of our lives.

So go far away from here. Travel the world, meet inspiring people, have amazing adventures far more memorable than those you had at Martha's Vineyard Regional High School. But know that not one of us will forget the part of our lives that we spent here. No matter how long we dance to that stupid Prince song, we will hever be able to shake every single grain of sand out of our shoes.

It's the first stepping stone of learning that will never end, and the last time you'll ever hear the words "Sober Fun" from Scho.

Since I've been here I have learned far more in the Arts from Mr. Brissette; in order to draw something perspective, you need reference, From Mrs. Cossutta always showing me how to improve my Artwork.

To remember me you just need to remember the quiet lad that was always doodling something.

"The soul is in the body as the sap is in the tree; and the powers of the soul are like the figure of the tree. How is this so? Understanding in the soul is like the green vigour of the branches and the leaves of the tree. Will is like the flowers on the tree; mind like the first fruit bursting forth. But reason is like the fruit in the fullness of maturity; while sense is like the height and spread of the tree. And in the same way, the human body is strengthened and supported by the soul."

soon to go:
It seems as if he had to leave
But raise your eyes
And do not grieve
For Tho' it's hard to Understand
It has unfolded
As was planned
Time wil lessen
All your pain
And one day he'll hold you again
And take some solace
if you will

For Ryan's love surrounds you still.
-MFO-

We love and miss you Ryan,
Love, Micah, Danielle, Mike, Sara, Alison, Brian, and Talia.

We would like to thank all of the members of the Yearbook staff for helping us put it all together. As our last year of High School, and for many of us our last year as residents of Martha's Vineyard we hope that this yearbook will bring you many fond memories as you remember your times growing up on the island.

Thank you to our advisors, Mrs. Mott, and Mr. Baer as well as Leslie Look for her photographs and all of the others who helped us out.
